

Far Northern Regional Center

Providing services and supports that allow persons with developmental disabilities to live productive and valued lives

Dear Individuals Supported, Families and Service Providers,

The health and safety of the individuals, families, service providers, and our staff is priority. Due to the Stay at Home order for California residents, the Far Northern Regional Center offices are closed to the public. However, we continue to be available to provide support to those we serve. Majority of our staff are working remotely, including service coordinators, with some continuing to come into the office. If you need to reach your Service Coordinator the receptionist is available to direct your calls. When leaving messages please allow up to 48 hours for a return call.

Thank you for your flexibility and patience as we work together through these times. As Far Northern Regional Center adjusts to the Stay at Home orders our Service Providers will also be adjusting. It is our hope that some Service Providers utilize technology to maintain working relationships with our clients.

If you believe you have been exposed please contact your primary physician or your county Public Health Department. In addition, contact FNRC at (530) 215-2519. If you need to call after hours please use the main line and speak with the on-call supervisor.

Correspondence will be available via email.

Thank you for your patience during this time.

Sincerely,

Melissa Gruhler
Executive Director
